

Dr. Renee Michelle Gordon Bio:

Dr. Renee Michelle Gordon is passionate about helping people build powerful relationships in their business and personal lives and her heart is big enough to help you too!

Dr. Renee was frustrated and sometimes just angry that she couldn't find the love of her life. And it wasn't because a lack of interest or social life. She, just like many people, kept on attracting the wrong person and kept on repeating the same mistakes...

1. Find a guy
2. Fall in love (or she thought)
3. Accept his proposal
4. Woke-up and smelled the coffee
5. Broke it off just before the wedding and repeated this 9 times!

With this type of track record you think she would have given up by then. But luckily, she was strongly influenced by the books and life lessons that her father taught to her and part of those lessons is that you can accomplish anything you want once you put your mind and heart to it.

So before she stumbled into wedding proposal number ten, she took the time to learn more about the affairs of the heart, relationship matching, manifestation of goals and interview techniques. She also was (and still is) mentored by one of the world's authorities on relationships, Ava Cadell. From all of this intense study and knowledge she created what we know as "Renee's Top 5 Love Attraction Strategies" and was ready to put this into action for herself.

She, like many people used the internet as one of her tools for attraction and during a short three month period had attracted over 2,659 interested guys!

Now for most people, that would see like a fantastic success. But her goal wasn't to be the most popular gal on the block. Her goal was to find the one love of her life.

So with a few adjustments to her process (something you'll learn about later), she refined her approach. This is when she found the person of her dreams who later became her husband of over 16 years.

What was so amazing is, even though she found her guy, and they did get happily married, she never really had an official wedding proposal. Because everything was so right, it was a natural progression to join in matrimony, thus skipping being proposed to for a tenth time!

Dr. Renee is a in-demand speaker, a compassionate Relationship & Love Coach and author of her newest book, Finding Your Love at Last. Renee's ability to help dig deep and make her clients aware of their greatness first as an individual, then how to build solid relationships to improve their business and personal lives is nothing short of miraculous. Dr. Renee is currently working on her newest book, Finding Your Love at Last "Duets", which is planning to launch in the early to mid 2018.

She has is a doctor of philosophical theology and is a certified Love and Life Coach. Renee has been featured in the NY Times and is a regular on the hit Dr. Phil produced TV show, The Doctors and is planning her own lifestyle/relationship television show with her husband of 16 years, Dr. Jim Connolly. She makes her home along with her husband, 4 dogs, 42 birds, multiple fish tanks and an exotic Koi pond in Southern California.